

workshops with children to show them how to grow plants and take care of them, and also how to cook with vegetables that are grown at their school or their home. Ziniu Kudas also liaised with the organisation Kampas 360 and invited people to bring clothes from home for recycling. The Surefoot Effect has contributed to the activities of Transition Stirling to upcycle old furniture items and to support the town of Aberlady to become more pedestrian and bike friendly. The Surefoot Effect also started a collaboration with the United World Colleges organisation to assist offices in Spain, Portugal, Macedonia, Zambia, Thailand, Argentina and Japan to reduce the environmental impact of their main annual activities.

Replicable Projects

Reducing waste and helping kids

Social business project Relative Art (www.artimasmenas.lt) supporting Erasmus+ project „A Tale of Two Futures“ invited high schools and art schools to donate childrens` and young artists` pictures for Relative Art project. The pictures will be sold avoiding waste and also will have effect on welfare of children form poor families.

Carbon Conversation Groups

in Spain

DomSpain organised different Carbon Conversation Groups and held 6 sessions with each of them. Using the English materials of Carbon Conversation, the local participants and their facilitators had the opportunity to share their thoughts and beliefs on environmental topics and discussed alternatives to current problems and concerns.

in Lithuania

Knowledge Code (VšĮ "Žinių kodas") organised a training of facilitators in Vilnius, Lithuania, from 14th to 18th May 2018. These participants, from now on, will run their own Carbon Conversation Groups thanks to all the knowledge acquired through several collective and collaborative working sessions.

Opening event of photo-exhibition was held on 2nd October, 2018 in Gallery "Verdenė". The exhibition is a part of Erasmus+ project "A Tale of Two Futures". In the exhibition works of project participants are shown.

During the opening event visitors could treat themselves with apple juice, also some discussion about importance to be eco-friendly come out among visitors.

Exhibition is open on Monday-Saturday from 8:00 till 21:00, from 2nd October to 22nd October, 2018.

Come and visit it!

Transnational Partner Meeting

Countries unite for a climate-friendly future.

The strength of meeting across borders becomes clear when Dom Spain, Ziniu Kodas and The Surefoot Effect get together. At the latest Transnational Project Meeting the team discussed and shared experiences on how to engage people in climate-friendly actions in Spain, Lithuania and United Kingdom. We like the idea of focusing on the benefits of a clean and green world that reduces, reuses, repairs and recycles more or where people have healthier lifestyles that include more vegetarian and vegan food and more trips to the office, to the cinema or to visit friends and family by foot or cycling, but also an emphasis on the development of clean technologies that create jobs and support local economies. 'How does a carbon neutral future looks like to you?' This is also the question for participants in the photo workshop and exhibition that Ziniu Kodas is organising to take part in Vilnius.
